President Adams, of the Board of Aldermen, a member of the commit-tee, served warning that except in ex-traordinary cases, he would hereafter vote against any appropriation to a State convention. The practice of giv-ing indiscriminately to every State or-ganization that chooses to hold its annual meeting in Richmond, he said, has been carried too far, and it was his belief that in several recent ap-propriations of this character the com-

"This committee was created primarily to aid in bringing to Richmond conventions and enterprises of a national character. Its primary purpose is to advertise Richmond outside the State and in that manner attract to the city outside industries and investments. Unless we take a definite stand to cut off all appropriations for State conventions and adhore strictly to this principle, it will not be long before the appropriation to this committee will be withdrawn, and I will be one of those in the Council to vote for the withdrawal."
